

4over API: Your Connection for Next-Level Growth

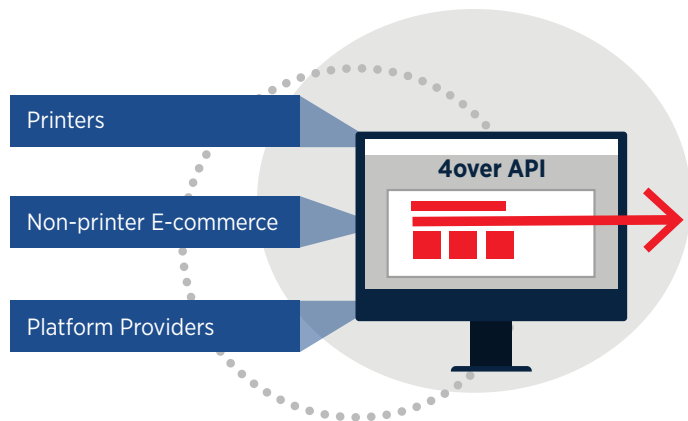

The global e-commerce market is expected to reach $4.2T¹ in revenue by 2025, as companies continue to embrace digital transformation by becoming online sellers.

The explosive use of Application Programming Interfaces, commonly known as APIs, is a key driver in today's e-commerce growth. In fact, API management expert Tyk estimates² that most e-commerce sites today require between 25-50 APIs to operate properly.

What Does 4over's API Do?

4over's API is a fully integrated solution that allows you to automate your submission of orders to us directly from your app, website, e-commerce site, or other procurement platform. Because our products are listed on your site ready to be ordered, you should already have an established e-commerce site. (If you're not that far along in your e-commerce journey, we recommend exploring our entry-level option, Printer Bridge.)

Who Needs the 4over API?

Any company that resells (or wants to resell) print products and has an established e-commerce site can use the 4over API. Some particularly good business use cases include:

- Printers who are trying to productize their business. A common scenario is a franchise that wants to create a single portal from which their franchisees can access all approved vendors.
- Non-printer e-commerce companies who sell or want to sell print. For these types of businesses, print products are not their sole focus, but they want or need to offer them to stay competitive.
- Platform providers. These use cases range from the "shop-in-a-box" users to big-brand corporations who set up an internal portal designed to fulfill the entire company's needs for basics such as business cards, letterhead, brochures, corporate swag, and more.

Benefits of Using the 4over API

- 1. A seamless user experience for your customers.
The only site they need to visit is yours, yet they enjoy a product selection that would typically require shopping additional sites.
- 2. Easy fulfilment and delivery. Once a customer places an order on your website and you submit it to the 4over API, the rest is up to us. We handle the printing, packaging, and drop shipping. All you do is sell — and profit!
- 3. Capital-free growth opportunities. Once activated and maintained, the 4over API allows you to easily expand your product offerings. Start small if you wish, then move into new markets with no additional investment as your success grows.
- 4. Products and services promoted as your own.
The 4over API keeps suppliers — like us — in the background to strengthen your brand perception.
- 5. Savings in time and resources. This fully automated offering eliminates the need to manually enter orders on the 4over site.

Why Work With 4over?

4over is one of the largest wholesale trade printers in the U.S., with a network of production facilities strategically located across North America to expedite turnaround and delivery times. A trusted source of print fulfillment since 2001, we focus on helping you develop and grow a profitable business by offering a vast selection of quality products at guaranteed trade-only prices.

How Do I Get Started?

That's easy — simply schedule an initial consultation with our API sales team (guideAPIsales.com@4over.com) to talk about who you sell to, how you present your products and where you see your business going! If a technical conversation is needed, we can also connect our experts with your experts. You can also contact your 4over sales representative directly to learn more.
