Where Promo & Grow Is Going

And why you're at the center of it, Venus.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

Read this first. People do their best work when they understand where the ship is headed — not just their oar.

Who we are

Promo & Grow is a 20-year-old, family-built, Lynwood-LA company that makes brands look unforgettable at their moment — custom tents, table covers, flags, trade-show displays, wall art, and the print that fills out a booth. Made to order, delivered in 5 business days, 4.8★ on Google. We're not a faraway template printer. We're real people who answer the phone, send a free proof, and make sure you show up right. Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

What we figured out (the strategy in one breath)

For years the business has quietly run on a concierge close: a customer calls or emails, we build their order by hand, send an invoice, they pay. That human close converts 10x better than our website cart ever has. The website isn't broken — it was just missing the bridge between people finding us and that warm human close.

You are that bridge. Every warm lead — every inbound call, every "reply to me" email click, every text — now lands with a person whose whole job is to help them, fast, in their language, and close. That's the engine. You're running it.

The road

- Now → $20K/month. We already have the pieces: 2,000 qualified visits × ~2.5% × ~$400 = $20K. The job this quarter is simple and huge — work the warm queue, close, repeat. Speed and follow-through win it.
- Next → $50K/month (12–18 months). That's not "$20K but bigger" — it's a different lever. It comes from higher average order value: institutional POs (like South Gate), reorders (like Donut Media), bundles, and repeat relationships. Which means the accounts you nurture today become the $50K engine tomorrow. Chase POs and reorders, not just volume.
- Then → it scales. Bilingual Spanish moat, SMS, cold outreach, paid ads — layered on after the warm engine is proven. You're proving it.

Where you fit

You're not "a rep." You're employee #1 of the sales machine we're building. Carlos is deliberately stepping off the day-to-day close so you can own it — that's how much this seat matters. The plan is: 1. You close the warm queue and we watch the bridge prove out. 2. We capture your playbook — your best replies, your winning calls — so you get credit and leverage, and so you become the expert who trains the next hire (more on this in Week 2). 3. We tool you up — once you've proven the close, you get an AI assistant that drafts follow-ups in your voice and queues your day, so you do more of what only you can do: connect and close.

You build the sales system here. You don't just work in it.

How we'll work together

- Managed by a scoreboard, not a stopwatch. Hit the speed and the activity, and you run your own day.
- Warmest leads first — so you win early and often.
- Warm, never pushy — we equip, we don't pressure. The data proves it: conversation closes, hard-sell flops.
- Big branding dreams (vehicle wraps, full brand systems) — you pitch them and hand them up to our Proágo side. That's upside in your pocket, not a dead end.

Welcome aboard. Let's go win some events.
