

FOR VENUS

Your First Day

Welcome to the team, Venus — here's how tomorrow goes.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

Hi Venus — we're genuinely glad you're here. You're not "just a rep" to us: you're the first person on the sales team we're building, and we're trusting you to take great care of the people who reach out to us. Today is about getting you comfortable and landing your first warm win. No pressure, no quota — just learning the ropes and having fun with it.

Your hours: 10:00 AM–4:00 PM Pacific (that's 11:00 AM–5:00 PM your time in El Salvador). We'll kick off at 10:00 AM PT on a quick video call.

How today flows

- We meet & I show you the vision. Where Promo & Grow is headed and why your seat matters. (Read the Where Promo & Grow Is Going page tonight if you can.)
- Get your tools set up: Gmail, Slack, and Shopify — we'll confirm each one works together.
- Learn the essentials: skim the Master Price Sheet (what we sell + set prices), the Brand Voice notes, and the Closer Workbook scripts.
- Watch the Master Order Walkthrough — one video that shows the whole flow: building an order, adding a client, sending the invoice, proof & checkout. (Link is in the SOP Library index.)
- Do two practice quotes with me: one tent + one print item. I'll look them over — this is how you get confident fast.
- Your first real warm touches. We'll start you on the warmest leads: the open quotes already in the system (one is a $3,400 tent order — ask for Temo), plus a few past customers who already love us. I'll review your quotes before they send this week, so you can learn with zero risk.

How we work together

- Speed wins. When a warm lead comes in, reach out within minutes. First to respond usually gets the sale.
- Warm, never pushy. We equip people, we don't pressure them. The free proof does the selling — it lets them see it with their logo, no commitment.
- You're measured by a scoreboard, not a clock. Hit the activity and the speed and you run your own day. (More on that in Your Scorecard.)
- Ask me anything, anytime. Cell, WhatsApp, Slack — I've got you.

A few things to know (the guardrails)

- Hold the floor: $100 minimum order, and no discounts without checking with me (this week, I review all quotes before they go out).

- Don't contact anyone tagged DNC: in Shopify — those are institutional accounts I handle personally.
- Bigger branding (vehicle wraps, full brand systems) — pitch it, then loop me in; that's our Proágo side.
- On the sheet → quote it. Not on the sheet → ask me. Never guess a price.

How to use this kit

You've got the whole kit tonight — don't try to absorb it all. Here's the order: 1. Tonight (10 min): read Where Promo & Grow Is Going and this page. That's it — get excited. 2. Tomorrow, together: the Workbook, Price Sheet, SOP Library + the walkthrough video, and the Cheat Sheet (keep that one open while you work). 3. This week: your Ramp + Certification path, the Knowledge Quiz, the Role-Play & Objection drills, and the Reactivation playbook + call list.

You bring the ganas — we'll make sure you have everything you need to win. Can't wait to get started.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

VISION

Where Promo & Grow Is Going

And why you're at the center of it, Venus.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

Read this first. People do their best work when they understand where the ship is headed — not just their oar.

Who we are

Promo & Grow is a 20-year-old, family-built, Lynwood-LA company that makes brands look unforgettable at their moment — custom tents, table covers, flags, trade-show displays, wall art, and the print that fills out a booth. Made to order, delivered in 5 business days, 4.8★ on Google. We're not a faraway template printer. We're real people who answer the phone, send a free proof, and make sure you show up right. Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

What we figured out (the strategy in one breath)

For years the business has quietly run on a concierge close: a customer calls or emails, we build their order by hand, send an invoice, they pay. That human close converts 10x better than our website cart ever has. The website isn't broken — it was just missing the bridge between people finding us and that warm human close.

You are that bridge. Every warm lead — every inbound call, every "reply to me" email click, every text — now lands with a person whose whole job is to help them, fast, in their language, and close. That's the engine. You're running it.

The road

- Now → $20K/month. We already have the pieces: 2,000 qualified visits × ~2.5% × ~$400 = $20K. The job this quarter is simple and huge — work the warm queue, close, repeat. Speed and follow-through win it.
- Next → $50K/month (12–18 months). That's not "$20K but bigger" — it's a different lever. It comes from higher average order value: institutional POs (like South Gate), reorders (like Donut Media), bundles, and repeat relationships. Which means the accounts you nurture today become the $50K engine tomorrow. Chase POs and reorders, not just volume.
- Then → it scales. Bilingual Spanish moat, SMS, cold outreach, paid ads — layered on after the warm engine is proven. You're proving it.

Where you fit

You're not "a rep." You're employee #1 of the sales machine we're building. Carlos is deliberately stepping off the day-to-day close so you can own it — that's how much this seat matters. The plan is: 1. You close the warm queue and we watch the bridge prove out. 2. We capture your playbook — your best replies, your winning calls — so you get credit and leverage, and so you become the expert who trains the next hire (more on this in Week 2). 3. We tool you up — once you've proven the close, you get an AI assistant that drafts follow-ups in your voice and queues your day, so you do more of what only you can do: connect and close.

You build the sales system here. You don't just work in it.

How we'll work together

- Managed by a scoreboard, not a stopwatch. Hit the speed and the activity, and you run your own day.
- Warmest leads first — so you win early and often.
- Warm, never pushy — we equip, we don't pressure. The data proves it: conversation closes, hard-sell flops.
- Big branding dreams (vehicle wraps, full brand systems) — you pitch them and hand them up to our Proágo side. That's upside in your pocket, not a dead end.

Welcome aboard. Let's go win some events.

— Carlos & the Promo & Grow team

FIELD MANUAL

Closer Workbook

How we quote, how we talk, how we follow up, who to chase first.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

For: Venus Castro · Owner: Carlos · Updated: June 6, 2026 Contents: §1 Quoting · §2 Where things are made · §3 Sales scripts · §4 Follow-up sequence · §5 Priority game plan · §6 Auto-attendant scripts · §7 Day-1 checklist

§1 — QUOTING (how to price a job)

The golden rule: you quote from the Master Price Sheet. Most of what we sell already has a set price. No math, no guessing.

1.1 Three cases

1. It's on the Master Price Sheet → use the set price. Done. (This is ~95% of jobs.)
2. Tents / displays priced by configuration → build the exact combo in the Shopify draft order; the price builds itself from the sheet's options.
3. Custom / not on the sheet → ask Carlos for the number (we call this route-through). Don't invent a price. Send it to him, he gives you the figure, you quote it.

1.2 The floor (never go below)

- Minimum order: $100. If a job comes in under that, raise it to $100 or add setup/handling.
- No discounts without Carlos's OK during your trial. List price is the price. If a client pushes hard, see §3.4 — explore the real need before touching price, and escalate if they want below list.

1.3 Build the quote (workflow)

1. Get from the customer: product, quantity, size/specs, art/logo, and the event / needed-by date.
2. Price it (§1.1). Check the floor (§1.2).
3. Build the Shopify draft order (see SOP Library — Carlos's recorded walkthrough).
4. Offer good-better-best when natural (e.g. Tent Only / Half Wall / Complete Set) — people anchor to the middle.
5. Send the invoice + a warm note (§3). Always restate the free proof and 5-day delivery (4-day on print).
6. Tag the customer in Shopify + set your follow-up reminder (§4).

1.4 Escalate to Carlos / Proágo (don't quote these)

Complex branding beyond our catalog — vehicle wraps, channel letters / signage, brand guides or brand systems — is Proágo Branding work. Pitch the relationship, then bring in Carlos to scope it. Script: "That's exactly the kind of bigger branding work our Proágo side handles — let me loop in Carlos so we get it right." It's upside; you still own the client.

§2 — WHERE THINGS ARE MADE (context only — you don't need logins yet)

Most quotes come straight from the price sheet. When something's custom, Carlos sources it: – 4over → printing & marketing collateral (business cards, postcards, flyers, brochures, NCR forms). – B2Sign → tents, large-format, trade-show displays (our go-to). Tradebanner is a backup if timing requires. – Soar Dist USA → complex / specialty tents (including full food-vendor enclosed setups) and advanced displays.

During the trial you don't log into vendors — you request the number from Carlos for anything not on the sheet.

§3 — SALES SCRIPTS (frameworks, say them in your own warm voice)

Bilingual — match the customer's language. Never pushy — we equip, we don't pressure. Always anchor on the free proof (removes risk) and 5-day delivery (we respect their moment).

3.1 Inbound call

"Thanks for calling Promo & Grow, this is Venus! Tell me about your event — what've you got coming up?" → listen, get the moment + the date → "Perfect, we can absolutely help. Here's how easy it is: send me your logo, I'll get you a free proof — no charge, no commitment — and once you love it, we deliver in 5 business days. Want me to start that proof?"

3.2 Discovery (the 3 things to learn every time)

1. The moment: "What's the event / when is it?" (date = urgency + production planning)
2. The need: "What are you picturing — just the tent, or the full setup?"
3. The stakes: "First time setting up, or leveling up from last time?"

3.3 The quote handoff

"Based on what you told me, here's what I'd recommend..." → present good-better-best → "Everything includes your free proof before anything prints, and it ships in 5 days. I'll send it right now — email or text?"

3.4 Objection handling (warm reframes, never defensive)

- "That's more than I wanted to spend." → "Totally hear you. Let's look at what matters most for your event — we can start with [smaller tier] and you'll still show up sharp. What's your target?" (explore the need; never just discount — hold the floor, escalate if needed)
- "I need to think about it." → "Of course! Want me to send the free proof in the meantime? You can see it with your logo — no commitment — and decide from there."

- "Can you do it faster?" → "Standard is 5 business days and we hit it. Tell me your date and I'll tell you straight if we can make it."
- "Why you vs. [online site]?" → "Those are templates and a faraway printer. We're real people in LA — free proof, a person who answers, and we make sure you show up right. Hecho bien."

3.5 Bilingual warmth (the heart)

When the customer speaks Spanish, switch naturally: "Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien. Mándame tu logo y te hago una prueba gratis — sin compromiso — y te lo entregamos en 5 días." Warm, neighborly, real.

§4 — FOLLOW-UP SEQUENCE (speed + persistence, never annoying)

Speed-to-lead is #1: respond to any new warm lead within minutes if possible, same business day at worst. First to respond usually wins.

If you can't reach them by phone: – Day 0: Call. No answer → warm voicemail + immediately text/email ("Hi [Name], Venus from Promo & Grow — tried you just now about your [event]. Send your logo and I'll start a free proof! Or call me at [ext].") – Day 1–2: Call again at a different time → no answer → email the free-proof offer + restate 5-day. – Day 3: "Any questions before your [event date]? Happy to jump on a quick call." – Day 7: "Your event's coming up — want to start the 5-day production clock so you're covered?" – After Day 7: move to monthly nurture. Don't hound.

Unpaid quotes/invoices (the hidden revenue): same Day 1 / 3 / 7 cadence — re-send the proof, offer to adjust, then the deadline nudge.

§5 — PRIORITY GAME PLAN (who to attack first)

Work the warmest leads first — highest chance to close, builds your reps fast: 1.  Inbound right now — calls/texts/emails/quote requests today. Respond in minutes. Always #1. 2.  Recent email engagers — opened/clicked the campaigns (hands raised). Carlos provides the list. 3.  VIP / repeat buyers — personal outreach, they already love us: Josh @ Donut Media, South Gate / sogate.org (institutional PO), Pathita @ Tao Kae Noi. 4.  Reactivation — broader past-customer openers. 5. * Cold — not yet. Comes later, once you're sharp on warm leads.

Your focus: tiers 1–3. That's where the money already is. Lean into PO accounts and reorders — that's how we grow average order value.

§6 — AUTO-ATTENDANT SCRIPTS (for Venus to record — you've got the voice)

Warm, professional, bilingual. Record clean, smile while speaking. Hours: 10am–4pm PT.

6.1 Main greeting (business hours)

EN: "Thank you for calling Promo & Grow — your custom event branding, done right and delivered in five days. For sales and quotes, press 1. For an existing order, press 2. Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

Venus — read this before you dial. The whole game on call one is simple: get them to reply. You're not closing, you're not pitching the catalog. You're a friendly voice from a shop they've already trusted, checking in. A conversation is two-way — until they say something back, it's just a one-way speech, and that's what gets people to hang up.

The mindset (this is the big one)

You came from a call center where calls came to you. Making them flips the nerves — so flip the frame: – These aren't strangers. They bought from us before. Warmest call there is. – Your only goal in the first 10–20 seconds: earn a reply. One "oh yeah, hey" and you've won the opening. Closing comes much later. – You already have the gift. You said it yourself — people can hear your smile, you build the relationship. That's the whole job. Trust it. – Be empathetic — they're busy (or acting busy) and didn't expect your call. So be warm, deliberate, and short. Respect their time and they'll give you some.

Step 1 — CONFIRM who you're talking to (don't skip this!)

Before any pitch: make sure you've got the right person.

"Hi, is this Alejandra?"

Wait for the yes. (This is the fix for the call that hung up — the spiel started before confirming, and a long intro to the wrong/unprepared person = click.)

Step 2 — A SHORT opener that earns a reply

Keep it to 2–3 sentences, max ~15 seconds. Hit: who we are + who we were + the specific thing they ordered + a question. Then stop talking.

"Hey Alejandra — this is Venus with Promo & Grow, you knew us as PrintCo Direct. Looks like about 7 months ago you ordered a banner stand and a tent with us. How's business going?"

Why this works: – "Formerly PrintCo Direct" instantly places us — "oh, that shop." – The specific past order + timeframe (it's right on your call list — use it every time) proves we know them and jogs the memory: "oh yeah, and I think we got business cards too..." That's the door opening. – "How's business?" hands them the mic.

En español:

"Hola, ¿hablo con Alejandra? — Le habla Venus de Promo & Grow, antes PrintCo Direct. Hace como 7 meses pidió un banner y una carpa con nosotros. ¿Cómo va el negocio?"

The opener's only job is to get them talking — honestly, you could almost ask what color the sky is. Any question that invites a reply opens the door. Keep it short, make it about them.

Step 3 — The second they reply, the conversation starts

Now keep it going by asking about them — not by pivoting to what we sell: – "How's business been — anything new or exciting going on?" – "How's growth this year? Busy season coming up?" – "When you ordered that [banner/tent], how'd it work out for you?" – (When it's natural) even ask about family / how they're doing — real warmth, real relationship.

Get genuinely interested. People feel that — it's the whole reason they'll want to keep talking to you.

Step 4 — Find the need before you offer anything

Ask if they need anything right now before you mention products. Be strategic about when to offer — only once the relationship's re-opened and you understand what they actually need. (Remember: someone says "brochure" but means a postcard; "a sign for my truck" might be a magnet or a wrap. Good questions get you to the right thing — that's what builds trust and sells.)

What a good first call looks like (your real scoreboard)

✓ You confirmed the person. ✓ They replied — you got a real two-way exchange going. ✓ You learned one thing about their business. ✓ You set a next step (a proof, a follow-up text, or "I'll check back").

That's a win — log it. Not closing. Conversations started. The closes follow.

You've got the hardest part already — the warmth. The rest is reps. Échale ganas.

FOR VENUS

Follow-Up Email Playbook

Personal, specific, and easy to say yes to.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

Venus — your follow-ups are polite and your grammar is great. The one thing to fix: right now they read like they could've been sent by any company to anyone. The customer should feel like you wrote it for them, and there should be one obvious next step. Same idea as the calls — personal + specific, and make it easy to reply.

The 5 fixes

1. Name them + one human line. Not "Hi," → "Hi Temo,". Reference their business, event, or past order.
2. Name the product, not "the project." "Your custom 10x10 tent setup," not "your project."
3. Lead with our two superpowers: the free proof + 5-day delivery. These are the reasons to say yes — and they were missing from every email. The free proof removes all risk ("see it with your logo before you pay a cent").
4. One clear next step. Replace "let me know if you have questions" with an easy yes: "Reply YES and I'll send your free proof."
5. Warm, on-brand voice — and Spanish when they prefer it. Cut the filler ("we truly appreciate the opportunity," "we value the opportunity to earn your business"). Sound like a real person who's got them.

The structure (keep it to ~5 short lines)

1. Warm, personal opener (name + a human touch).
2. The quote + what it includes (name the product).
3. Free proof + 5-day delivery.
4. One easy CTA.
5. Signature.

Plug-and-play templates (English + Spanish)

1) First follow-up (Day 1)

Subject: Your Promo & Grow quote — free proof ready when you are

Hi [Name], it's Venus at Promo & Grow (formerly PrintCo Direct). Following up on your [product] — the total's [$amount], shipping included. Here's the easy part: I'll send a free proof first so you can see it with your logo before anything prints, and once you approve, we deliver in 5 business days. Want me to start that proof? Just reply YES. — Venus

ES: Hola [Name], le habla Venus de Promo & Grow (antes PrintCo Direct). Le doy seguimiento a su [producto] — el total es [$amount], con envío incluido. Lo mejor: le mando una prueba gratis para que lo vea con su logo antes de imprimir, y al aprobarla se lo entregamos en 5 días hábiles. ¿Le mando la prueba? Responda SÍ y la empiezo. — Venus

2) Gentle nudge (Day 3 — no reply yet)

Subject: Still happy to send your free proof

Hi [Name], just floating this back up — no pressure at all. Any questions on the [product] quote ([$amount])? Happy to tweak anything. If it's easier, I can send the free proof so you can see it first — want me to? — Venus

ES: Hola [Name], solo le recuerdo esto — sin compromiso. ¿Alguna duda con la cotización de [producto] ([$amount])? Con gusto ajusto lo que necesite. Si prefiere, le mando la prueba gratis para que lo vea primero. ¿Se la mando? — Venus

3) Deadline nudge (Day 7 — event coming up)

Subject: Let's lock your [date] timing

Hi [Name], your [event/date] is getting close — to make sure you're covered, we'd want to start the 5-day production clock soon. Want me to send the free proof today so we stay on schedule? Quick YES and I've got you. — Venus

ES: Hola [Name], ya se acerca su [evento/fecha] — para que llegue a tiempo, conviene empezar pronto la producción de 5 días. ¿Le mando la prueba gratis hoy para no atrasarnos? Un SÍ y queda. — Venus

Before → After (one of your real emails)

Before (the $888 one — generic, no product, no proof, passive close):

"I wanted to follow up and resend the quote... The total for the project is $888.00. We truly appreciate the opportunity... please feel free to reach out. Our team is always happy to help."

After (specific + warm + free proof + one CTA):

"Hi [Name], Venus at Promo & Grow (formerly PrintCo Direct), following up on your 10ft SEG display — $888 all in. I'll send a free proof so you can see it with your logo before we print, then 5 business days to delivery. Happy to adjust anything. Want me to get the proof started?"

See the difference? Shorter, names the product, gives the reasons to say yes, ends with one easy question.

Using AI the right way (you've got Claude/ChatGPT)

The AI is only as good as what you feed it. Give it: the client's name, the exact product, the amount, their event/date, and what they ordered before. Tell it to use this structure and our warm voice — and reject anything that sounds like corporate filler. Paste prior-conversation screenshots so it has full context. The template above is the recipe; the AI just speeds it up.

OPERATIONS

SOP Library

The cataloged playbook of how we run an order, end to end.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

Owner: Carlos · Built from: Carlos's 10 recorded Loom walkthroughs (June 2026) + workflow notes.
How this was made (the Jorge pattern): record the workflow → drop the notes → here it gets organized, polished, indexed, and cataloged into clean SOPs. Each SOP also has an improved re-record outline (`Re-Record-OutLines.md`) so you can refilm cleaner, shorter videos on QuickTime and drop them back in.

How to use

- Venus: read the SOPs in order. Watch the matching Loom for the visual. The SOP is the written checklist you keep open while you work.
- Carlos: when you refilm a video, use the matching outline in `Re-Record-OutLines.md` , then update the Loom link below.

The catalog (10 Looms → 6 clean SOPs)

Loom #	Original title	→ Clean SOP	Recording
1	Pricing Guide for Business Card Orders	SOP-01 Quoting & Pricing	Internal (Carlos only)
2	Postcard Pricing and Master Price List	SOP-01 Quoting & Pricing	Internal (Carlos only)
3	Brochure Options, Coatings, and Turnaround	SOP-01 Quoting & Pricing	Internal (Carlos only)
4–9	Full order workflow — one continuous walkthrough (Orders & Drafts tabs · create order · custom items · add/find client · invoice email · proof, checkout & shipping · customer filtering)	SOP-02 → SOP-05	► Master Order Walkthrough
10	Using Legacy Ordant Software for Order History	SOP-06 Legacy Order Lookup (Ordant)	Loom

Update (June 2026): the six order-flow clips (4–9) were re-recorded as a single continuous Master Order Walkthrough — that one link is the canonical video for SOP-02 through SOP-05.

Note: Looms 1–3 cover vendor-side pricing (4over) and stay internal. Venus quotes from the Master Price Sheet — and once the print products are loaded into Shopify, she'll add them to a draft order just like any catalog item. So SOP-01 is her quoting guide and needs no video. Looms 4–10 are her operational walkthroughs.

The 6 SOPs

1. SOP-01 — Quoting & Pricing a Job — price from the Master Price Sheet, product knowledge for cards/postcards/brochures, turnaround, custom route-through. (The vendor-pricing Looms 1–3 stay internal.)
2. SOP-02 — Create a Draft Order in Shopify (covers Looms 4–5) — catalog products, custom line items, price-per-unit, save & send.
3. SOP-03 — Add / Find a Client in Shopify (covers Loom 6) — search existing, add new, address verify, marketing opt-in, tags.
4. SOP-04 — Draft the Invoice Email & Notes (covers Loom 7) — CC rules, invoice naming, AI-assisted voice.
5. SOP-05 — Proof, Checkout & Shipping (covers Looms 8–9) — what the client receives, Shop Pay checkout, free-shipping promo, rush handling.
6. SOP-06 — Legacy Order Lookup in Ordant (covers Loom 10) — pull a legacy client's last price + file for reprints.

The full order lifecycle: quote (SOP-01) → build the draft (SOP-02) → attach the client (SOP-03) → send the invoice email (SOP-04) → they approve the proof & check out (SOP-05). SOP-06 is the lookup you run for returning/legacy clients before quoting a reprint.

STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE

SOP-01 · Quoting & Pricing

Price a job fast and accurately, without exposing cost.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

Covers Looms 1–3 (business cards, postcards, brochures) · Owner: Carlos · Updated: June 6, 2026

Purpose

Produce a fast, accurate quote a customer can pay — without exposing cost or guessing.

Scope

All quoting for catalog + standard print collateral. Fully custom / non-listed items route to Carlos. Complex branding (wraps, channel letters, brand systems) escalates to Proágo.

Who / When

Venus, the moment a warm lead asks "how much?" — by phone, email, or text. Speed-to-lead is #1: respond within minutes.

Steps

1. Get the 5 inputs: product, quantity, size/specs, art/logo, and the event / needed-by date.
2. Find the price: – On the Master Price Sheet? → use the set price. Done. – Tent/display by configuration? → build the combo in the draft order (SOP-02); price builds itself. – Print collateral? → it's now in the Shopify catalog as a hidden quoting product: search the name, pick the run size, and the price fills in. (Run-size ladders are also on the Master Price Sheet for reference.) – Not listed / fully custom? → ask Carlos for the number (route-through). Don't invent it.
3. Check the floor: minimum order $100. No discounts without Carlos's OK (Week 1).
4. Offer good-better-best when natural (Tent Only / Half Wall / Complete Set; or qty breaks on print).
5. Quote it with the warm note (SOP-04) — restate free proof + delivery time.

Product knowledge (so you sound expert)

- Business cards: default is 16PT stock, matte, double-sided (4/4) — that's ~95% of orders. UV is the glossy option. Spot UV (gloss on one element, e.g. the logo) is a nice upsell — mention it, but standard is matte. Turnaround ~4 business days.
- Postcards: 16PT, gloss. Single- and double-sided are basically the same price, so always quote double-sided. Sizes: 4x6, 5x7, 5.5x8.5 (half-page).
- Brochures / flyers: All-Inclusive 8.5x11. Standard coating is aqueous (subtle gloss; mostly the paper's luster). Folding is included in the price (trifold, half-fold). Turnaround ~3 days (printed and shipped from regional facilities). Pricier than online template shops — we win on speed + a real person + free proof.

Output

A clean quote/price ready to drop into a Shopify draft order (SOP-02), at or above the floor, with proof + delivery stated.

Exceptions & edge cases

Scenario	What to do
Item not on the price sheet	Route-through: ask Carlos for the number.
Client wants below list / a discount	Explore the real need first (SOP-04 scripts). Escalate to Carlos; never go below the $100 floor.
Rush (faster than standard)	Tell them honestly; rush adds cost → Carlos confirms a custom/closing quote.
Spot UV / specialty finish	Upsell opportunity — quote separately, confirm cost with Carlos.
Complex branding (wraps, channel letters, brand system)	Pitch it, escalate to Carlos/Proágo — don't quote it here.

Pairs with: PNG-Master-Price-Sheet (your numbers) · SOP-02 (build the order). Pricing-engine math is internal to Carlos.

STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE

SOP-02 · Create a Draft Order

Turn a quote into a Shopify draft the customer can pay.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

Covers Looms 4–5 (creating & sending orders in the dashboard) · Owner: Carlos · Updated: June 6, 2026

Purpose

Turn a quote into a Shopify draft order that becomes an invoice the customer pays — the concierge close in action.

Scope

All orders built by hand (the way ~most of our revenue comes in). We build the cart for the customer and send them the invoice instead of making them self-serve.

Who / When

Venus, after she's agreed a price with a warm lead (SOP-01). Week 1: Carlos reviews every draft before it sends.

Where you live

Shopify Admin → Orders → Drafts. This is your home base. Drafts = orders you've created and emailed; they flip to Completed when they turn into paid invoices.

Steps

1. Start the draft: Orders → Drafts → Create order. (Always start from Drafts, not from a live order.)
2. Add catalog products: – Click Add product, search (e.g. "tent", "table throw"). – Pick the exact variant/combo. For tents: remove the default selection, then scroll to the right combination — reinforcement strip color, sewing thread, bag type, wall config (Tent Only / Half Wall / Full Wall / Complete Set). The admin side lists each combo as its own line; you choose it (the customer-facing site builds it for them).
3. Add print collateral — now in our catalog! Business cards, postcards, flyers/brochures, NCR forms & pads, 13oz banners, and vehicle magnets are loaded in Shopify as hidden quoting products (they don't show on the website). Search the name (e.g. "business cards"), pick the run-size / size variant, and the set price fills in automatically — no price math. – Truly custom item not in the catalog at all? Add a custom item, name it clearly (e.g. "16PT Business Card — 4/4 — 1,000"), get the price from Carlos (route-through), and enter price per unit (total ÷ quantity).
4. Attach the client (SOP-03): search existing by name/email/phone, or add new.
5. Shipping: add the shipping line. Orders $500+ ship free (ground) — most tents, canopies, and large items clear that automatically. Smaller items: ~$30 standard ground ($25–45 by size). Faster = a custom/closing quote (expedited).
6. Save the draft.
7. Send the invoice email (SOP-04). The customer gets a checkout link, enters their shipping/payment, and pays (SOP-05).

Output

A saved draft order with correct products, client, and shipping — ready to invoice.

Exceptions & edge cases

Scenario	What to do
Product isn't in the catalog	Add it as a custom item with a clear name + price per unit (Step 3).
Multiple items (e.g. tent + business cards)	Add each as its own line; both show on the customer's cart.
Missing customer info (e.g. no phone)	Get it from the client or note it; complete in SOP-03 before sending.
Rush / custom shipping	Don't guess — confirm the figure with Carlos, then add the line.
Price uncertain	Stop. Finish pricing (SOP-01 / route-through) before sending.

Pairs with: SOP-01 (the price) · SOP-03 (the client) · SOP-04 (the email). Watch the Master Order Walkthrough (linked in the SOP index) for the full visual.

STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE

SOP-03 · Add / Find a Client

Attach a verified customer and capture marketing consent.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

Covers Loom 6 (creating orders & clients) · Owner: Carlos · Updated: June 6, 2026

Purpose

Attach the right customer to a draft order with complete, verified contact info — and capture marketing consent the right way.

Scope

Every draft order needs a client. Either they already exist in our database or you create them.

Who / When

Venus, while building a draft (SOP-02), ideally while the customer is still on the phone so you can confirm details live.

Steps

1. Search first. In the draft, search the customer database by name, email, or phone number. If they exist, select them — their info auto-populates.
2. Verify what populated. If something's missing (e.g. no phone) and you have them on the line, get it and update the record right there.
3. New client? Add: first name, last name, email, phone number.
4. Capture marketing consent (important — do this live). Ask if they'd like order updates + occasional offers by text and email. Frame it warm: "I'll send you updates on your order — want me to text those too? I'll also send the occasional event-season deal." They usually say yes. This is real opt-in consent (it's what lets us text them later — TCPA).
5. Address. Start typing the street address — Shopify auto-verifies and suggests the match. Add the company name. Confirm the address before saving.
6. Receiver vs. payer. If the person receiving the package differs from the person placing the order, put the payer in the customer/billing view and the receiver on the shipping address. (Most of the time they're the same.)
7. Tags. Leave tags light at creation. Add client tags once you start working them (lead stage, VIP, reorder, language) so follow-ups don't slip — confirm the tag list with Carlos.
8. Save the client to the draft.

Output

A complete, verified client record attached to the draft, with marketing consent captured if given.

Exceptions & edge cases

Scenario	What to do
Duplicate-looking records	Pick the one with order history; merge/clean later with Carlos.
Invalid phone on file	Re-confirm with the customer and correct it before saving.
They decline marketing texts	Respect it — do not opt them in. Order/transactional updates are still fine.
Different ship-to person	Payer in billing, receiver in shipping (Step 6).

Pairs with: SOP-02 (the draft) · SOP-04 (the email) · PNG-SMS-Marketing-Playbook (why consent matters). Watch the Master Order Walkthrough (linked in the SOP index) for the visual.

STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE

SOP-04 · Invoice Email & Notes

Send the invoice with a warm note that gets the pay.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

Covers Loom 7 (drafting client emails & invoice notes) · Owner: Carlos · Updated: June 6, 2026Purpose

Send the invoice with a warm, persuasive note that gets the customer to open the checkout link and pay — in our voice.

Scope

Every draft order's outgoing email. Week 1: Carlos reviews before send.

Who / When

Venus, right after saving the draft (SOP-02) with the client attached (SOP-03).

Steps

1. Send it from your personal email. In the top-right From dropdown, set it to your own promongrow.com address so the invoice comes from you, not the generic hello@. CC hello@promongrow.com so we keep a copy of the communication. CC the client's accounting dept or business partner if they ask. (Week 1: Carlos still reviews your quotes before they send.)
2. Subject line: Promo Invoice [number] – Promo & Grow (formerly PrintCo Direct Inc.). The "(formerly PrintCo Direct Inc.)" helps legacy clients who still know us as PrintCo recognize the order.
3. Write the note — warm, specific, never pushy (Brand Voice). Hit: – A personal opener (reference their event / what they told you). – What's in the order (restate the estimate briefly). – Free proof before anything prints, and the sequence: production doesn't start until the invoice is paid AND the proof is approved — then the 5-day clock begins (4 on print). – A clear nudge to the checkout link: "Tap to review and lock it in." – Bilingual if they speak Spanish.
4. Use AI to draft, then make it yours. Carlos uses AI (prefers Claude) to produce persuasive emails fast. Draft with AI → adjust to the customer → keep it warm and human. (A shared brand-voice prompt library is coming. Tip: paste screenshots of the prior conversation so the AI has full context and catches errors.)
5. Attach/confirm the invoice link and send (after Carlos's review in Week 1).

Output

A sent invoice email, CC'd correctly, that drives the customer to checkout (SOP-05).

Quick template (adapt — don't robot it)

Subject: Promo Invoice D87 — Promo & Grow (formerly PrintCo Direct Inc.) Hi [Name] — great talking about your [event] on [date]! Here's your invoice for the [product summary]. Everything includes your free proof before we print, and once you approve we deliver in 5 business days. Tap below to review and lock it in — any tweaks, just reply and I'll adjust. — Venus, Promo & Grow

ES: ¡Hola [Name]! Aquí está tu factura para [producto]. Incluye tu prueba gratis antes de imprimir, y al aprobarla te lo entregamos en 5 días. Toca para revisar — cualquier ajuste, me dices.

Exceptions & edge cases

Scenario	What to do
Legacy client	Use the invoice-number subject convention so it ties to their history (see SOP-06).
Customer wants changes	Adjust the draft, re-send; keep the same thread.
No reply	Run the follow-up cadence (Workbook §4: Day 1 / 3 / 7).

Pairs with: SOP-02, SOP-03, SOP-05 · Workbook §3 (voice) & §4 (follow-up). Watch the Master Order Walkthrough (linked in the SOP index) for the visual.

STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE

SOP-05 · Proof, Checkout & Shipping

What the customer sees, and how to guide them to paid.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

Covers Looms 8–9 (proof emails, checkout & shipping) · Owner: Carlos · Updated: June 6, 2026

Purpose

Know exactly what the customer experiences after you send the invoice, so you can guide them through to paid — and start the production clock.

Scope

The customer-side flow from invoice email → paid, plus the proof step and shipping rules.

Who / When

Venus, after sending the invoice (SOP-04), and whenever a customer has a question about checkout, shipping, or their proof.

What the customer sees (so you can walk them through it)

1. They get your email and click the link → it opens the Shopify checkout for their order.
2. They verify their phone number (quick).
3. Most already use Shop Pay → checkout is fast and familiar.
4. Checkout shows estimated shipping + sales tax.
5. They pay → the draft flips to a paid invoice → production starts.

The proof step (our risk-remover)

- We send a free proof before anything prints. Nothing goes to production until they approve it.
- Approval starts the 5-business-day delivery clock (4 days on print).
- Use it in your close: "You'll see a free proof with your logo before we print a thing — zero risk."

Shipping rules

- Orders $500+ ship free (ground). Most tents, canopies, and large items clear that threshold automatically — say it, it's a real incentive. Smaller items run ~$30 standard ground ($25–45 by size).
- Need it faster? Standard ground won't cut it → it's a custom/closing quote. Get the customer's date, confirm the rush figure with Carlos, then add the shipping line (SOP-02).

Output

A paid order in production, customer clear on proof + timing.

Exceptions & edge cases

Scenario	What to do
Customer stuck at checkout	Walk them through phone verify + Shop Pay; offer to resend the link.
Wants expedited delivery	Custom shipping quote via Carlos; don't promise a date you can't hit.
Wants changes after paying	Flag Carlos before production locks.
Hasn't approved the proof	Follow up (Workbook §4) — the clock doesn't start until they approve.

Pairs with: SOP-04 (the email that gets them here) · Workbook §4 (follow-up). Watch the Master Order Walkthrough (linked in the SOP index) for the visual.

STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE

SOP-06 · Legacy Order Lookup

Pull a returning client's last price and file for a reprint.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

Covers Loom 10 (legacy software for order history) · Owner: Carlos · Updated: June 6, 2026

Purpose

Pull a returning/legacy client's last price charged and their artwork file so we can quote and run a reprint fast — and consistently.

Scope

Returning clients from the Print Code Direct era whose history lives in Ordant (`pcd.ordant.com`), not in Shopify. Most legacy clients just reprint the same job.

Who / When

Venus, before quoting a reprint for any client who says "we ordered before" or whom you can't find in Shopify.

Access (read this)

- Ordant is legacy / read-only. Carlos retired it (it was the Print Code Direct system); the owner (Ali) kept his access alive so we can pull history. You can look up data, but don't add users or change anything.
- URL: pcd.ordant.com. (Credential via the password manager.)

Steps

1. Log into pcd.ordant.com.
2. Go to the order / job board.
3. Search the client by name (e.g. "Nova Storage").
4. Open their previous order history. The two things you want: – What we charged them last — the single most valuable number for a reprint quote (match or adjust it). – The order number → tells you where the artwork file lives on the NAS server (organized by year + order number).
5. Use the last price as your quote basis (apply current pricing if costs changed — confirm with Carlos if unsure), then build the order in Shopify (SOP-02). Going forward, the order lives in Shopify, not Ordant.

Output

The client's last price + file location, so you can quote and produce a reprint quickly.

Exceptions & edge cases

Scenario	What to do
Client not in Ordant either	Treat as new; quote from the Master Price Sheet (SOP-01).
Last price looks too low today	Costs may have moved — confirm current pricing with Carlos before quoting.
Need the artwork file	Use the order number → NAS by year + order number. Ask Carlos if you can't locate it.
Tempted to edit Ordant	Don't — it's read-only/backup access. Build everything new in Shopify.

Pairs with: SOP-01 (quote the reprint) · SOP-02 (build it in Shopify). Watch Loom 10 for the visual.

For: Venus (and every closer after her) · Owner: Carlos · Built: June 6, 2026. How to use: Each phase has a focus, daily/weekly work, and a certification gate Venus must pass to advance. Weekly 15-min check-in every Friday (pairs with the Weekly Scorecard). No quota pressure in month one — we reward learning velocity and warm wins.

Why gated: structured, competency-gated ramps retain ~50% more reps, cut ramp ~34%, and lift first-year revenue ~23% (see the Best-Practices Brief). The gates make "ready" objective.

Phase 1 — LEARN (Days 1–30) · "Foundations"

Goal: know the product, the price, the process, and our voice — and bank a few warm wins with the safety on.

Focus & work: – Read the kit: Vision, Closer Workbook, Master Price Sheet, Brand Voice, SOP Library. – Watch Carlos's Loom SOPs (Shopify draft order, client, invoice email, proof/checkout). Study them like recorded top calls — take notes, then debrief with Carlos. – Build practice draft orders: 1 catalog (tent) + 1 print item (now in the Shopify catalog) — Carlos reviews before anything sends. – Work the warmest queue supervised: the open drafts (#D77 ask for Temo, #D66), then the 25 hottest reactivation accounts. Carlos reviews every quote before it goes out. – Speed-to-lead habit from Day 1; tag every touch in Shopify.

 Gate to advance — "Foundations Certified" (Carlos signs off when Venus can): – ☐ Quote any catalog item + any print item correctly from the price sheet (no help). – ☐ Build a clean Shopify draft order → client → invoice email end-to-end. – ☐ Pass the Knowledge Quiz at 85%+* (products, pricing, process, voice). – ☐ Name the floor + escalation triggers (institutional = DNC; wraps/channel letters/brand systems → Carlos/Proágo). – ☐ Run one live warm call using the script, reviewed by Carlos. – ☐ First reactivation conversation logged.

Phase 2 — APPLY (Days 31–60) · "Closer Certified"

Goal: sell independently on the warm queue, close her first deals, build follow-through into muscle memory.

Focus & work: – Quotes go out with spot-checks, not full review (she earned it in Phase 1). – Reactivation calling at volume — work down the 162-account list, warmest first; draft follow-ups; Day 1/3/7 cadence, nothing slips. – First closes. Begin the "Your Playbook" voice-capture habit (the week-2 unlock) — save winning calls/emails. – Objection drills 2x/week (LAER + Feel-Felt-Found); re-take the quiz weekly (spaced repetition). – Start tracking AOV — offer good-better-best and bundles.

 Gate to advance — "Closer Certified" (the trial→commit milestone, ~Day 60–90): – ☐ Speed-to-lead and follow-through green on the scorecard for 3+ weeks. – ☐ Closed her first handful of paid invoices (reactivation and/or inbound). – ☐ Quotes consistently accurate; floor respected; clean draft orders. – ☐ Handles the top 5 objections fluidly in a role-play (Carlos scores it). – ☐ Voice is on-brand and customers respond. – ☐ Self-manages off the scoreboard.

Passing aligns with the 3-month rate bump to $15.75 and raising her weekly hours cap (the clean trial→commit mechanism).

Phase 3 — ACCELERATE (Days 61–90) · "Senior Closer track"

Goal: own the warm queue, push AOV, and start compounding.

Focus & work: – Owns the full warm queue + inbound; Carlos out of the day-to-day close. – Higher daily activity; lean into AOV levers — bundles, reorders, institutional-style POs (the private ones), complete-set tents. – Reverse-shadow: Carlos listens to a few live calls to confirm she's fully independent. – Begins feeding the system — her saved playbook trains the next hire. – Unlock candidate: once the close is proven, set up her Cowork account for voice-matched follow-up drafting (the automation step).

* Milestone — "Senior Closer track":* – ☐ Consistent monthly closes; pipeline building on its own. – ☐ Measurable AOV lift (bundles/reorders). – ☐ Could onboard the next rep from her own playbook. – ☐ Ready for graduated scope (eventually cold, once the funnel's proven).

The cadence that runs it

- Daily: speed-to-lead, warm-queue work, tag every touch.
- Weekly (Fri, 15 min): scorecard review + one fix + one drill + re-quiz. Celebrate the win.
- Per phase: certification gate before advancing. Don't move the goalposts — coach to the gate.

Certification = the rate ladder

Cert	~Timing	Unlocks
Foundations Certified	~Day 30	Quotes go out with spot-checks (more autonomy)
Closer Certified	~Day 60–90	3-month rate bump ($15.75) + higher hours cap
Senior Closer track	~Day 90+	Graduated scope + Cowork automation

PRACTICE

Role-Play & Objection Drills

Practice makes the close automatic. Run these twice a week.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

For: Venus (+ team) · Owner: Carlos · Built: June 6, 2026. How to use: Carlos (or a peer) plays the customer; Venus closes. Score with the rubric. Or Venus practices solo out loud / with an AI voice. Repeat weekly — spaced practice is what makes it stick. Research: 60% of sales need 5+ "no"s, but 44% of reps quit after the first — these drills train the persistence that wins.

The objection backbone: LAER

Listen (fully — don't jump in) · Acknowledge (empathize, no defensiveness) · Explore (open question to find the real concern) · Respond (tailored, then ask for the next step). For price, layer in Feel-Felt-Found. Always have the free proof as your fallback ("no commitment, just see it").

Role-Play Scenarios

Scenario 1 — Inbound discovery (new lead)

Setup: A taquería owner calls; has a grand opening in 3 weeks; never ordered from us. Customer opens: "Hi, yeah... I saw you guys do tents? How much for a tent with my logo?" What good looks like: warm greeting → get the moment + the date before price → learn need (tent only vs full setup) → present good-better-best → anchor free proof + 5-day → ask to start the proof. Doesn't blurt a price first.

Scenario 2 — Quote handoff with good-better-best

Setup: Lead wants "a 10x10 tent." Budget-conscious. Customer: "Just the basic tent, what's that run me?" What good looks like: "Here's how it works — Tent Only is $800, but most folks doing a grand opening go Complete Set at $1,600 so the whole booth matches. Want me to proof the Complete Set so you can see it?" Anchors the middle/up, ties to their moment, free proof.

Scenario 3 — Reactivation warm call (the whale)

Setup: Alegre Music — 174 past PrintCo orders, quiet 34 months. Venus is reconnecting. Customer: "Promo & Grow? ...I think we used to use PrintCo?" What good looks like: the reframe — "Same shop, same family, we leveled up to Promo & Grow." Reference what they bought before, reconnect warmly, offer the reorder OR the new event line, low pressure. Goal = re-open the relationship, not hard-sell.

Scenario 4 — Draft follow-up (#D77 / ask for Temo)

Setup: $3,400 quote billed to Sarieliza; her husband Temo (Del Rio Brewing Co.) is the decision-maker. Customer (Temo): "Yeah I got the quote... we're still thinking about it." What good looks like: ask for Temo by name, warm, no pressure → explore the hesitation (LAER) → reassure (free proof, 5-day) → offer to adjust or lock production for their date → clear next step.

Scenario 5 — Price pushback (objection focus)

Setup: Quoted a Complete Set; customer balks. Customer: "That's more than I wanted to spend."

What good looks like: LAER + Feel-Felt-Found + explore the real budget + offer a smaller tier (never just discount; hold the $100/Carlos floor) + free proof to keep it moving.

Scoring rubric (1–5 each; 18+/30 to pass)

Skill	What you're scoring
Warm open	Friendly, on-brand, not robotic
Got the moment + date	Learned the event + deadline before pricing
Discovery	Understood the real need (tier, stakes)
Good-better-best	Presented tiers, anchored the middle/up
Free proof + 5-day	Anchored both naturally
Objection handling	Used LAER; stayed warm; didn't fold or over-discount
Asked for the next step	Clear close ("want me to start the proof?")

Objection Flashcards (drill these)

Front = what they say. Back = the move (LAER) + a line. Cover the back, practice the line, flip to check.

1. "That's more than I wanted to spend." → Acknowledge + explore budget; offer smaller tier; free proof. "Totally hear you — what's the target you're working with? We can start with [tier] and you'll still show up sharp."
2. "I need to think about it." → Don't push; keep it moving with zero-risk. "Of course! Want me to send the free proof in the meantime so you can see it with your logo? No commitment."
3. "Can you do it faster than 5 days?" → Honest + confident. "Tell me your date and I'll tell you straight if we can make it. We hit our 5 days — if it's tight, I'll be upfront."
4. "Why you instead of Vistaprint / online?" → Reframe the value. "Those are templates and a faraway printer. We're real people in LA — free proof, a person who answers, 5-day delivery. Hecho bien."
5. "Just send me a price." → Get one detail first. "Happy to! Quick thing so I quote it right — what's the event and when is it?"
6. "We already have a vendor." → No fight; plant a seed. "Love that you've got someone. Keep us in your back pocket — free proof, 5 days. If they're ever slammed, I've got you."

7. "Can you design it for me?" → Set the line warmly. "We proof and print — and I'll send free Canva templates + a proof so it comes out great. For full custom branding, our Proágo side can help — want me to loop Carlos in?" (escalate if bigger.)
8. "It's been a while — who is this again?" (reactivation) → The reframe. "It's Venus from Promo & Grow — we're the shop you knew as PrintCo Direct, Carlos's team. Just reconnecting with our favorite accounts."
9. "Email me the info." → Agree + keep a thread. "Done — I'll text it too so it doesn't get buried. What's the best number?"
10. "I'll get back to you." → Set the next touch. "Sounds good — your event's [date], so I'll check in [day] to keep you covered. Sound fair?"

NotebookLM audio role-play (sample source script)

Paste this into NotebookLM to generate an audio role-play Venus can study (a recorded "top call").
Format: two voices, CUSTOMER and CLOSER.

CUSTOMER: Hi, I saw you guys do custom tents? I've got a grand opening coming up. How much?
CLOSER: Awesome — congrats on the opening! Tell me about it, when's the big day?
CUSTOMER: Three weeks out, the 28th. CLOSER: Perfect, plenty of time — we deliver in 5 business days. Are you picturing just the tent, or the full booth so everything matches?
CUSTOMER: Maybe just the tent for now... what's that run? CLOSER: Tent Only is $800. Most folks doing a grand opening go Complete Set at $1,600 so the tent, walls, and table all match — looks like you've been doing this for years. Either way you get a free proof first, no commitment. Want me to start that proof so you can see it with your logo? CUSTOMER: That's a bit more than I wanted to spend. CLOSER: Totally hear you. What's the target you're working with? We can start with the tent and add walls later — you'll still show up sharp. And the proof's free either way. What's the best email or number to send it to?

Make more by swapping the scenario (reactivation, price pushback, draft follow-up) — keep the two-voice format.

FOR VENUS

Your Scorecard

How we track your wins — and what earns your raises.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

Hi Venus — here's exactly how you're measured. It's simple and it's all in your control. We manage to these numbers, not to the clock — hit them and you run your own day. Every Friday we'll do a quick 15-minute check-in: look at the numbers, celebrate the win, and pick one thing to sharpen.

The 4 numbers that matter

#	Metric	What it means	Target	While you ramp (Weeks 1–2)
1	Speed-to-lead	Time from a warm lead landing → your first response	< 15 min in business hours	< 60 min while learning
2	Daily activity	Calls + emails + texts + quotes per day	15–25/day	8–12/day
3	Follow-through	% of open quotes you worked on the Day 1 / 3 / 7 cadence	100% (nothing slips)	100% — habit from day one
4	Quote → paid	% of quotes you send that get paid	30–40% on warm leads	track it — it climbs as you learn

Speed-to-lead and follow-through are fully in your control — those should be green right away. Quote→paid grows naturally as you learn the catalog and the close. Effort first, results follow.

Your weekly scorecard (fill this each Friday)

WEEK OF: _____

1. Speed-to-lead (avg): _____ min //

2. Daily activity (avg): _____ /day //

3. Follow-through: _____ % //

4. Quote → paid: _____ % //

Leads worked: _____ Quotes sent: _____ Revenue closed: $ _____

Biggest win this week: _____

One thing to sharpen next week: _____

Keep a running tally in your Shopify tags as you work; drop the numbers in on Friday. Five minutes.

Your growth path (certifications + raises)

You earn your way up by proving skills, not just putting in time. Each milestone unlocks more autonomy — and your rate climbs on a built-in ladder.

Milestone	About when	What it means for you
Foundations Certified	~Day 30	You can quote, build orders, and pass the Knowledge Quiz (85%+). Your quotes go out with quick spot-checks instead of full review.
Closer Certified	~Day 60–90	You're closing warm leads, metrics green, voice on-brand. Rate moves to $15.75/hr and your weekly hours open up.
Senior Closer track	~Day 90+	You own the warm queue and start pushing bigger orders. Continued rate ladder + you help train the next hire.

Rate ladder: $15.00 → $15.75 (3 mo) → $16.54 (6 mo) → $17.36 (9 mo) → $18.23 (12 mo). Built-in raises every 3 months as you grow with us.

What "great" looks like in your first 30 days

- Closed your first warm leads (reactivation and/or inbound).
- Speed-to-lead and follow-through green for 3+ weeks.
- Quotes accurate, floor respected, clean draft orders.
- Handle the top objections smoothly (we'll drill these).
- Running your own day off the scoreboard.

Hit these and you're Closer Certified — that's the goal of month one. You've got this.

FOR VENUS

Reactivation Playbook

Win back proven buyers. Call first, warmest first.

Tu evento, tu marca, hecho bien.

Promo & Grow · Updated June 2026

Owner: Carlos · For: Venus · Built: June 6, 2026 from 6 years of PrintCo Direct order history.

The opportunity (why this is gold)

PrintCo Direct did 817 orders in 2021 and only 206 in 2025. That decline isn't lost customers — it's hundreds of proven buyers who already know and trust us, just waiting to be re-engaged. Venus isn't cold-calling strangers; she's reconnecting with people who've paid us before. That's the warmest outreach there is.

From the history we pulled 162 prime reactivation accounts for Venus — repeat buyers (2+ orders) who've gone quiet in the last 6–48 months, with a real email and phone on file. The institutional accounts (City of South Gate, Lynwood, Nova Storage, etc.) are walled off — Carlos handles those.

Recency tiers (call top-down): – 23 hottest — last order 6–12 months ago (barely cooled; easiest wins). – 52 warm — 12–24 months. – 87 lapsed — 24–48 months (includes the whales).

The whales — give these a personal call first: Alegre Music (174 past orders), Copies/ReadySpaces (129), Airgas (62), Medella Pharmacy & Boba (47), GM Auto Paint (46), Driven Events (30), JJ Gold Construction (28), Rancho Humilde (27), Felix Botanica (26).

Full ranked list: PNG-Venus-Reactivation-CallList.csv (162 accounts, warmest first, with contact, email, last order, past order count, and what they used to buy).

The reframe (how she opens — warm, not cold)

Every call rides on one truth: "PrintCo Direct is now Promo & Grow — same family shop, same people, leveled up." She's not selling to a stranger; she's checking in as the shop they already know.

Two angles, pick per account (the list shows what each bought): 1. The reorder — "You used to get your [banners / business cards / NCR forms] from us — want to refresh those?" Low-friction, fast yes. 2. The new line — "We've expanded into custom event displays — tents, table covers, backdrops, all delivered in 5 days. Got an event coming up?" Plants the bigger sale.

Channel: CALL FIRST

She's a closer — lead with her voice. Email/text are the backup that earn the callback.

The reactivation call (framework — her warm voice, bilingual)

"Hi [Name], this is Venus from Promo & Grow — we're the shop you used to work with as PrintCo Direct, Carlos's team. I was going through our accounts and saw we took care of your [product] a while back. I wanted to personally reconnect — we've leveled up, we now do custom event branding too, and we still deliver in 5 days. What've you got coming up this year?" ES: "Hola [Name], le habla Venus de Promo & Grow — somos el equipo de Carlos, antes PrintCo Direct. Vi que le ayudamos con sus [producto] hace un tiempo y quería reconectar personalmente. Crecimos: ahora también hacemos branding para eventos, y seguimos entregando en 5 días. ¿Qué tiene en puerta este año?"

Voicemail (if no answer)

"Hi [Name], Venus from Promo & Grow — formerly PrintCo Direct, Carlos's shop. Reconnecting with a few of our favorite accounts. I'll text you too — reply anytime and I'll take care of you. Talk soon!"

Follow-up text/email (same day, after the call/VM)

"Hi [Name], Venus from Promo & Grow (formerly PrintCo Direct) Tried you today — we've expanded into custom event displays + still do all your print. Want a fresh quote on your [product], or something for an upcoming event? Reply here or call (844) 883-3308."

Cadence (per account)

- Day 0: Call → no answer → voicemail + text/email same day.
- Day 2: Call again, different time of day.
- Day 5: Email — lead with the reorder or a relevant new product.
- Day 10: Last touch — "Should I keep you on our list for event season?"
- No response after Day 10: tag `stage:nurture` and move on. Re-touch quarterly.

The tag system (track engagement + prioritize)

Tags live on the Shopify customer record. Your import already carries `Proágo (PCD)` `Legacy Clients`, `Legacy Client`, `PrintCo Direct Client`, and `Reactivation-Apr2026` — keep those (they mark the source). Venus layers these working tags on top:

Group	Tags	Use
Stage	stage:new → stage:contacted → stage:quoted → stage:won / stage:nurture / stage:lost	Where the lead is. Advance it on every touch.
Priority	pri:hot · pri:warm · pri:cold	How hard to chase. Hottest tier = pri:hot .
Source	src:reactivation · src:draft · src:inbound · src:vip	Where it came from.
Interest	int:tents · int:displays · int:flags · int:print · int:banners · int:apparel · int:vinyl	What they want — drives the pitch + future campaigns.
Follow-up	fu:day2 · fu:day5 · fu:day10 · fu:nurture	Her reminder for the next touch. Clear/advance when done.
Guardrail	DNC:institutional · DNC:reserved · owner:carlos · lang:es	Do-not-contact (Carlos's). Never contact any DNC:* . lang:es = Spanish-preferred.

How she works it daily: 1. Build today's list with Shopify filters (Customers → Filter → by tag): e.g. the Reactivation-2026 segment (~574 clients), or pri:hot + stage:new . Run the query and work down it. 2. On each call: set stage:contacted , add the right int: tag, set the next fu: reminder, and lang:es if Spanish. 3. When she sends a quote → stage:quoted ; when paid → stage:won . The scorecard reads these. 4. Never touch anything tagged DNC:institutional . (Already applied to the City of South Gate, Lynwood, and LUSD accounts in Shopify.)

Start her on the warm follow-ups (Week 1)

Day 1 (Monday) — open Shopify drafts, perfect first reps: – #D77 — $3,400, billed to Sarieliza (fabiola_avosalc@outlook.com), May 21. Biggest open quote. Ask for Temo — Cuauhtemoc "Temo" Del Rio (Del Rio Brewing Co.), Sarieliza's husband, is the decision-maker; he called it in and asked to bill her. Call first. – #D66 — $150, Cristian Lopez (salsa_culichichi@aol.com), Apr 22. Quick close. (Lives in South Gate but is a private customer — NOT the city. Fine to call.) – #D2 / #D3 / #D5 ($432 / $487 / $3,040, mid-2025) — no customer attached. Investigate; likely archive.

Midweek (Tue/Wed, once she's settled) — Shadi Safai · Smile Klub Dental (safashadi@gmail.com): An open storefront-signage quote is already out; decision pending. Two options sent — Option 1: targeted fix $1,788 (replace the 2 sun-faded circle decals + refresh hours/contact on the door + pylon) · Option 2: full storefront $4,800 (full window wrap + new pylon sign). Venus calls to help her choose and lock it in. (Already tagged stage:quoted pri:hot fu:tue in Shopify.)

Tag drafts `src:draft` + `pri:hot` as she works them.

Guardrails (so "aggressive" stays on-brand + safe)

- Do not contact institutional accounts. South Gate, Lynwood (city + LUSD), and Nova Storage are handled by Carlos — they're tagged `DNC:institutional` in Shopify. Some additional gov/edu accounts are on hold pending review, and a few private accounts (e.g., Virginia Country Club, Prime Lubricants) are reserved (`owner:carlos` / `DNC:reserved`). Rule: never contact anything tagged `DNC:*`.
- Warm, never pushy — we're reconnecting, not chasing. The reframe does the work.
- Hold the floor — $100 minimum, no discounts without Carlos (Week 1, all quotes reviewed).
- Log every touch with a tag — if it's not tagged, it didn't happen.

Weekly targets (ties to the scorecard)

- Ramp: ~10–15 reactivation calls/day → ~50–75/week.
- Track: calls made, conversations had, quotes sent (`stage:quoted`), reactivations closed (`stage:won`). Same scorecard, new `src:reactivation` lens.
- Goal of the first 30 days: re-open conversations with the 25 hottest + the whales, and bank her first reactivation wins.

A note on your list
