

HOW TO SELL Large Format

Selling anything requires understanding and acknowledging the challenges your customer is facing and then presenting them with a solution that meets their needs. To see the best results, it's important to target your prospects carefully, have an effective conversation, and broaden awareness with marketing efforts. This sheet includes all the resources you need to grow your business by offering Large Format products.

Customer Challenges That Large Format Can Solve

- Lower event participation from lack of awareness.
- Negative impact of a difficult-to-find location.
- Burnout on traditional fundraisers.
- Wasted time due to visitor confusion/inefficient foot traffic patterns.
- Costly fines for improper or missing required signage (OSHA fines are now \$13,653 per violation¹, and ADA signage violations can cost up to \$75,000²).

The Value Proposition of Large Format from 4over

- High-quality signage attracts traffic that boosts revenue: 68% of customers admit to having made purchases of products or services after a sign caught their eye.³
- Yard signs and sponsor banners are great fundraisers.
- Floor and wall decals can direct indoor traffic.
- Wall posters and other signage offer easy regulatory/code compliance.

Targeting and Upsell Strategies

Not every service or product is right for every customer. That's why choosing the right targets will improve your rate of conversion from prospect to sale. For Large Format, consider these possibilities:

Retailers	Schools
Sports Teams	Medical/Dental Providers
Real Estate Firms	Restaurants
Event Planners	Spas/Salons
Automotive Dealers	Churches
Businesses/Office Buildings	Goverment Agencies

One of the best ways to increase revenue using Large Format is to suggest those products as add-ons to customers already placing an order, also known as cross selling. Prime cross-sell opportunities for Large Format include:

Customers ordering products such as business cards, flyers, menus, or promotional items, especially for any business that falls into the categories listed above.

Customers ordering one Large Format item, such as a wall banner or yard sign, can be offered additional Large Format products such as window clings or flags.

Sales Scripts

Once you've identified ideal prospects for Large Format, you're ready to approach them. Here are a couple of ways to start the conversation about the value Large Format offers in building their business:

For an upsell, look for customers who are ordering a smaller-sized or lower-priced Large Format item.

Mention the benefit of increased visibility with larger or multi-colored products. Explain any extra quality and durability features that top-shelf signage provides. Allow the customer to feel the difference in thickness or see an actual sample of the print and color quality.

For a cross sell, you are looking for customers who are ordering other business or event products (like business cards, flyers, brochures, promo, etc.) Ask them if they have any concerns about location visibility/ event awareness. Explain how Large Format signage is multi-purpose, from attracting attention to guiding foot traffic to ensure a business is compliant. For organizations printing fundraising flyers, suggest player/team/organization yard signs or custom flags as fresh alternatives to the same tired options. Finally, let them know about any "business bundles" (multi-product deals) you have created to maximize their savings and extend their budget.
