

Two rules that run everything: ① No quote dies from silence — every quote runs the cadence until it's Won, Nurture, or Dead. ② No lead sits without a next step — every lead has a next action + date. Empty next-step = a leak.

Most deals close on the 3rd–6th touch. The money is in the follow-up — but persistence ≠ pestering. Every touch carries a reason and is easy to reply to.

THE STANDARD CADENCE — EVERY SENT QUOTE

TOUCH	WHEN	CHANNEL	WHAT TO SAY
1 — Deliver	Same day	Their channel	Quote + free-proof offer + "5 business days from proof approval"
2 — Re-open	Day 1–2	Call → text	"Want me to start your free proof so you can see it?"
3 — Help	Day 3	Email/text	"Any questions before [event date]? Happy to hop on a quick call."
4 — Deadline	Day 7	Call/text	"Your event's coming — want to start the 5-day clock?"
5 — TAKEAWAY	Day 10–12	Text/email	The breakup / 1–2–3 reply (below) — usually the highest-response touch
6+ — Nurture	Monthly	Email	Soft value; new season/offer; don't hound

After the takeaway with no reply → mark Nurture, route to the email sequence, set a 30-day re-touch, and move on. Stop dialing daily.

WHEN A DEAL GOES COLD — CHANGE THE PATTERN

- 1 Switch the channel. Called 3x? Text or email — lower pressure, often gets the reply.
- 2 Switch the time. Try early AM or just after lunch.
- 3 The takeaway / breakup. Highest re-engage move — signal you'll close the file.
- 4 Shrink the ask. Down-sell to the easy yes (a smaller tier / one piece).
- 5 Diagnostic question. "Is it timing, budget, or do you need to run it by someone?"
- 6 The 1/2/3 reply. Make it a 2-second tap. Even a "3" frees the slot.

OBJECTION → THE MOVE

THEY SAY	THE MOVE
(silence)	Takeaway + 1/2/3 reply
"More than I wanted to spend"	Down-sell a tier; restate free proof + 5-day; never below the floor → ask Carlos
"Let me think about it"	The diagnostic question — surface the real blocker
"Just send me info"	"Happy to — what's the one thing you need to decide?"
"Check with my boss/partner"	"Want it in one sheet you can forward?"

DECIDE — DON'T DRIFT (WITHIN ~2 WEEKS)

WON → tag stage: won, hand to fulfillment. NURTURE → tag stage: nurture, email re-touch ~30 days. DEAD → tag stage: lost, close out.

SAY-IT-OUT-LOUD TEMPLATES (GANAS VOICE)

THE TAKEAWAY (REVIVE A COLD DEAL)

"Hey [name] — Venus from Promo & Grow. No quiero seguir llamándote 😊. Your [proof/quote] is ready, but I won't hold your production slot if timing changed. Reply 1 (lock it in), 2 (love it, not yet), or 3 (pass) — lo que sea, sin pena. If it's budget or timing, dime y lo resolvemos."

THE DOWN-SELL (EASY YES)

"Totalmente entiendo que [full order] es una decisión grande. ¿Quieres empezar con [smaller piece] so you're moving now, y el resto cuando estés listo? Te mando un free proof hoy — en 5 días hábiles estás listo. ¿Te lo envío?"

THE DIAGNOSTIC

"Sin presión, [name] — para ayudarte mejor: ¿es el timing, el presupuesto, o lo tienes que consultar con alguien? Whatever it is, I'll work with you."

MONTHLY NURTURE (RE-TOUCH)

"¡Hola [name]! Pensé en ti — [season/event] is coming up. Sigo teniendo tu info; want me to put together a quick free proof so you're ready? No compromiso."

Work top-down. Call first (text/email if no answer) → lead with the relationship + a specific reason → offer the free proof → quote from the Master Price Sheet → log it + tag it + set the next-action date. Speed wins. Exclude institutional accounts (sogate.org / DNC) — those are Carlos's.
